CHARGES BY PHILADELPHIA NEWSPAPERS TO BE INVESTIGATED AT HARRISBURG -NO CHANGE IN BALLOT.

IBT TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.] Harrisburg, Penn., Feb. 24.-The proceedings of the Legislature were enlivened to-day in the House by the adoption of a resolution providing for the creation of a committee to investigate charges of attempted bribery made by Philadelphia newspapers. The statements were to the effect that two members of the House had been approached by persons professing to act in Senator Quay's interests, who offered them money if they would move to reconsider the vote by which action on the McCarrell bill, relating to the setting aside of jurors, had been postponed until March 21, the persons approached having voted in the affirmative and being therefore qualified to make the motion.

General Rountz, of Somerset, an anti-Quay man, offered the resolution, but he made the mistake of naming the members of the investigating committee, thus taking that prerogative from the Speaker, which occasioned a lively breeze, the Quay men fighting the resolution, declaring it an insult to the Speaker and that the investigation meant "whitewash." Mr. Kreps, of Franklin, dencunced the anti-Quay men as a band of political cutthroats, but subsequently withdrew his remarks and apologized, and Captain Skinner moved to amend the resolution so as to place the appointing of the committee in the Speaker's hands.

After some flerce skirmishing over the resolution, Koontz accepted the Skinner amendment. At this point Mr. Voorhees, of Philadelphia, a Quay man, offered a substitute for the resolution, providing for a joint committee of the Senate and House to investigate all of the senates that have grown out of the Senatorship struggle, including those affecting the newspapers and newspaper correspondents, but he was met with such a storm of indignation from the House that he was forced to withdraw his substitute, and the Koontz resolution, as amended by Skinner, passed unanimously.

It is thought that Speaker Farr will appoint a committee that will not stop at the charges of bribery in connection with the McCarrell bill, but will make a thorough, impartial and exhaustive inquiry into all of the stories that have been affoat here ever since the Senatorial fight began, and which involve men of all party convictions. Quay man, offered a substitute for the resolu-

Two ballots were taken, resulting as follows Gray (Dem.), 17; Addicks (Union Rep.), 17; Hilles (regular Rep.), 11: Saulsbury (Silver Dem.), 4. Forty-nine members were present. Necessary to elect, 25. Addicks lost one vote to-day by the absence of Representative Short.

The silver Democrats changed from John D. Hawkins to Willard Saulsbury. William S. Hilles again received the full vote of the regular Republicans. The Union Republicans still are determined in their purpose, that, as far as they are concerned, the Senatorial deadlock shall continue till the end of the session, as they declare with them it shall be Addicks or nobody. A strict canvass among the regulars show them to be as determined in their purpose to prevent Addicks's election as the union men are to below it shout. are to bring it about.

THE BICYCLE SQUAD IN BROOKLYN DO-ING REGULAR PATROL DUTY-OTHER GOSSIP.

A wheelman identified with one of the prominent yele clubs of Brooklyn looked up the writer yesterday to make what he considered a just comagainst the manner in which the bicycle po ice are handled in Brooklyn. For obvious reasons, he explained it, he preferred that his name and that of his club should not be mentioned. "Some of our boys are fast riders, and if it became known that we were registering a protest some of the police might try to make it warm for us," said he. During the blizzard I suppose the bicycle squad did not have much to do, but there ought to he elenty of work for them from new on. But most of the twenty-five members of the bicycle squad are detailed to the Fifty-fifth Precinct, where they are doing regular duty. Now, this is diverging the squad from its original purpose, and I think it that the cyclists of this borough are able to use their wheels at present on most of the popular uptown driveways and streets, but that the wheelmen of Brooklyn are snowbound now as tight as running north and south have been cleared of snow tricts with more or less pleasure, so long as they ooklyn even the most used streets, with possib a few exceptions, are seas of mud, slush, snow and

A prominent wheelman in Brooklyn who has for hat Park Commissioner Brower should give some and before it is too late. It is expected that as soon as the snow melts, and there seems to be little chance that it will be cleared off, it will be found that both paths are in lad condition, and that the old path is practically useless. Now, if wheelmen are allowed to use the old path before it has dried out thereughly, the surface will be badly cut up and it will be unridable for a long time. The best plan will be for the police to keep wheelmen and everybody else off the old path until it has theroughly dried out. Then it will be time enough to think of riding on it. Wheelmen wishing to travel to Comey Island can use the macadamized road to the right of the old path.

All the bicycle-club members in this city are looking ahead to the regular opening of the outdoor season. Club runs, which were not as popular last year as of old, promise to be more generally interesting. Most of the captulus of the pretentions clubs are already laying out their schedules. ARRANGEMENTS FOR SOUTHERN PRACTICE.

Followers of baseball are beginning to wake from their winter sleep, and they are taking a liveller interest in things pertaining to the National game. It is expected that Manager Hanlon, of the Brook-No club, will reach this city to-day, and that he will make immediate arrangements for taking the Baltimore and Brooklyn teams South for their preliminary practice. It is expected that the two teams will start South about March 29, and that neither will return much before the formal opening of the championship senson, in April. Hanlon is not the sort of man to take chances with his players early in the senson, and team may not be seen in practice games at Wash-and sunshiny in early April, Hanlon may change his plans and bring his players North earlier than his plans and bring his players North earlier than he expects. Hanion is a good business man as well as a first-class baseball manager, and if the weather is such that he can bring his men North without risk of Injury, he will probably do so, for the team in Gowanus promises to be a money-maker from the start, and several exhibition games before the opening of the championship season with college teams would start off the finances of the club in good shape.

TO RESTRICT FRESHMAN SPORTS.

IMPORTANT ACTION TAKEN BY THE HARVARD ATHLETIC COMMITTEE.

Cambridge, Mass., Feb. 24.-At a mass-meeting of the Harvard Athletic Committee to-day two important votes were taken in the way of restricting participation of freshmen in intercollegiate athletics. The first vote was to the effect that the freshman football team shall play no games outside of New-England. This will, of course, prevent the Harvard freshman team from playing the University of Pennsylvania freshmen at Philadel-phia, and practically end in this contest taking place in Cambridge or not at all.

The second vote was merely in the form of a proposition to the other universities, but it is one which if adopted will limit the period of a college player's cligibility to 'varsity fearms to ture years instead of four, as at present, and will prevent freshmen from playing on 'varsity teams. The votes were as follows:

Voted, That this committee is willing to pass the following rules in case the co-operation of Yale, University of Penusylvania, Princeton and Cornell can be secured:

secured:
That no student shall be eligible to rep-his university, except on class teams, until been in residence at that university at least

MEETING OF THE UNITED STATES GOLF ASSOCIATION.

There was a good deal of discussion among local golf-players yesterday of the result of the annual meeting of the United States Golf Association on Thursday evening, and though some were not sure whether they were pleased or not, the general opinion seemed to be that the association had done best that could be expected under, the ircumstances. Keen disappointment was felt on all sides that the question of championship links had not been definitely decided, for the majority of players seen were anxious to arrange their plans for the season, and the possibility of having to wait several weeks before learning the committee's choice did not strike them pleasantly.

It seems to be understood that the amateur chamst which one nobody pretended to say. Several players expressed the hope that Morris County would be prevalled upon to take it again, as the links there gave such universal satisfaction a year ago, and the management of the affair on the part of the Morris County members was so able and satisfactory, but the lending men of that organization were certain that the club would not conider the proposition should it he breached by the Executive Committee, One player, who desired his ame to be withheld, declared that the decision on he part of the association to hear the expense of the tournament would not prove the drawing-card that was expected, as it was not so much the question of money as the work involved which deerred the more prominent clubs from offering their

You can't have several thousand spectators dumped amused without throwing responsibility upon somebody, and that responsibility nobody wanted

There is perhaps considerable truth in this, but for all that the assurance that the association stands ready to meet all legitimate expenses will doubtless have a stimulating effect on clubs otherwise able to offer their links, and the wisdom of fessionals also came in for general commendation, in England there is at present a strong movement on the part of the professional class to secure a NOTES OF THE LINKS.

There was slow Bidding, and the auctioneer sent some of the days back to the kennels because of low bids at the start. The average price was about $17, and pupples sold for even less, a number of fine little fellows going for $5, $750 A protest against the bull-terrier Faultiess caused a good deal of gossip among the dog experts. The general opinion was that Faultiess's tail had been dog men to be legitimate grooming, by sandpapering the hair down so as to give the tail a fine taper. It was said by most of the experts that nothing would come of the protest. Sandpapering is common, one of them said, and it was not particularly reprehensible. The paper is rubbed along the tail. dog men to be legitimate grooming, by sandpaper-knew that it had been done. The significant point with regard to the exhibi-tion of this year is that it has shown the growth of the art of breeding in this country, through the winning by American-bred dogs over imported animals.
